DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 16 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

As currently drafted, independent claim 19 has been amended to require a spirally wound belt layer positioned radially outward of a pair of oblique belt layers and formed of hybrid cords. Claims 16 and 17, which are dependent from claim 19, however, include the following language respectively:

“the belt cord in the spirally wound belt layer includes a multi-strand steel cord of twisted plural steel strands.”

“the belt cord in the spirally wound belt layer includes a waved steel cord made by giving a waving processing to a steel cord of twisted plural steel filaments.”

The original disclosure, however, failed to include support for a spirally wound belt layer that is positioned outward of a pair of oblique belt layers and formed of a combination of hybrid cords and steel cords. The original disclosure only provides support for such a combination in a ply that is positioned between the innermost oblique layer and the carcass/body structure (see Page 25). It is noted that Figure 17 does include an additional layer between the outermost oblique belt layer and a spirally wound belt layer; however, such a layer is described as being formed of steel cords or alternatively, hybrid cords (Page 28). As such, the amended claim language is seen to constitute new matter. Lastly, it is noted that the originally drafted claims (claims 15-17) describe the independent use of distinct cords for the spirally wound belt layer, further suggesting that applicant did not envision a radially outermost, spirally wound layer comprising a combination of hybrid cords and steel cords.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 15, 19-23, and 25 are allowed. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art references of record failed to suggest, disclose, or teach a pneumatic tire construction comprising a spirally wound belt layer positioned radially outward of a pair of oblique belt layers, wherein said spirally wound belt layer is formed of a hybrid cord satisfying the claimed elongation characteristics.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 1733

In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
